

Are you interested in pregnancy research?

Dr. Jonathan Purnell, MD is conducting a study at Columbia Memorial Hospital to learn more about how receiving nutritional advice during pregnancy affects your food choices and your baby's growth.

Participation will last up to 6 months after you deliver your baby, and could involve up to 18 visits. Participants will be compensated up to $85.

You may be eligible to be in this study if:

You are at least 18 years old

You are generally healthy

Are in your first trimester of pregnancy

You plan on delivering at Columbia Memorial Hospital

You are fluent in English
